Christian parents in Tennessee, June 25, moved to Mississippi about 1841, and was ried to Ira J. Marble, Jan. 4, 1853. She was mother of five children, three of whom, wi
the father, preceded her to their heaven home, and two children, viz.: Rev. M. J. Ma ble and Mrs. J. Z. McKay, and eight gra children are left to mourn their loss. She joined the church early in life and lived a quiet, unassuming Christian. When her health would admit she visited the sick, attended divine services, taught a class in Sunday-school, and always loved her pastor. She belonged to a large and influential Methodist family. Her father, Anderson Freeman, and many of the family have been and are ministers of the gospel. She had many sorrows and sad afflictions, but always seemed resigned to God's will. Her health had been very bad for several years, and at times was a great sufferer, and seemed to have realized for some time that her life's work was done, and expressed herself many times as being ready and wanting "to pass over the river and rest under the shade of the trees."

117-year-old Bible contains family's lost heritage

By MARY LETT
Mississippi Press Staff

Miss Press 12-25-94

A few weeks ago, Hannah Greer Marble of Harleston received a very special Christmas gift — a 117-year-old Bible containing some of her family's long lost heritage.

A friend, Elsie Martin, who is a genealogist at the Pascagoula Public Library, found the Bible with a handwritten list of births of the Greer and McCullough families at the Schillinger Road Flea Market in Mobile. While thumbing through the frayed and torn pages of the family record, she came across a familiar name — Hannah Greer.

The longtime acquaintance knew Mrs. Marble's maiden name was Greer, however, the Bible bore an 1877 copyright date and this Hannah Greer had been born Aug. 14, 1822.

"I felt almost certain these were probably some of her ancestors," Mrs. Martin said. "I purchased the Bible and the man told me he found it in a trunk he had purchased from the Conerly home in Pike County, Miss., and he had just sold a photo album which went along with the Bible."

A VERY SPECIAL GIFT — Hannah Greer Marble (left) and Elise Martin look at a 117-year-old family Bible that Mrs. Martin found at a flea market. The Bible's family record contained the names of several of Mrs. Marble's ancestors including her great-grand aunt, Hannah Greer, who was born in 1822.

After purchasing the Bible for $5, Mrs. Martin made copies of the family record for the Pascagoula Library genealogy section and gave it to Mrs. Marble as an early Christmas present.

Mrs. Marble said the Bible led her to what she believes is her original namesake - Hannah Greer, the ninth of 14 children born from 1807 to 1835 to John (born Dec. 9, 1788) and Sarah (born Oct. 14, 1791) Greer.

The Bible also listed the Greer's other children and birth dates: Jessie - Aug. 29, 1807; Smith - Dec. 3, 1808; Anna - Nov. 9, 1810; Mary - Aug. 12, 1812; Williamson - July 18, 1814; Isaiah - Sept. 12, 1816; Milley - Oct. 10, 1818; Levi - Aug. 23, 1820; Silas - Dec. 29, 1824; Sarah - Nov. 1, 1826; John - Jan. 9, 1829; Francis - April 27, 1833 and Newton - Nov. 13, 1835.

"I believe the 13th child, Francis, is my great grandfather and Hannah was my great-grand aunt," she said. "The Bible may have belonged to Mrs. A.L. Conerly, whose name appears in it. She must have been a relative of the Greer's youngest daughter, Sarah, who married Winston McCullough."

The Bible listed seven children as being born to the McCulloughs: Margaret - Sept. 24, 1845; Samantha - Jan. 10, 1847; Mary - March 5, 1848; Sarah - Aug. 5, 1849; Victoria - Sept. 8, 1852; William Cicero - Aug. 23, 1858 and Savilla - April 22, 1854.

Also, the Bible record shows Mrs. Conerly died on May 17, 1898 at the age 78, Sarah died Sept. 30, 1904 at the age 77 and her husband, Winston, died Feb. 4, 1913 at the age 90 years.

"The death of Winston was the last recorded entry in the Bible and the family probably assumed years ago, the Bible was lost," Mrs. Martin said. "The Bible has probably been lost since that time or was stored away in the old trunk and nobody knew where it was."

Mrs. Marble said the family Bible was the one of the best Christmas presents she has ever received.

"This is a treasure," she said. "It is so special to have the original. This is something I can pass down to my children and grandchildren. I just can't wait to share this with them."

Mrs. Marble and her husband, Marshall J., have three children, Johnny of Biloxi, Ken of Mandeville, La., and daughter, Kaye Pace, of Madison.

Mrs. Marble attended a family reunion last October and said she can hardly wait to the next one so she can show the Bible. "During the reunion, I saw a descendency chart and all the names in the Bible were on that chart."

Also, she added she remembered seeing a copy of the obituary of her great-grandfather Frank (probably Francis) Greer because her father had served as a pallbearer.

Mrs. Martin said as a genealogist, she is always on the look out for well-used old books.

"Those old books usually have a lot of information in them. When I see one in this condition, I want to know what it was used for, because a lot of times people write important historical information in the Bible or other books," she said.

Also, Mrs. Martin urges those with old family Bibles or books with family records or information recorded in them, to bring them to Pascagoula Library to be photocopied.

"If the book is ever destroyed or lost, family members will still have a copy of that written record," she said.
